SENATOR THEODORE E. BEAR CHALLENGES STEPHEN COLBERT TO LIVE DEBATE

Candidate Puts Colbert “On Notice” With Delivery Of Letter To Television Studio

Dunwoody, GA, March 28 – Senator Theodore E. "Teddy" Bear (I-AK), independent candidate for President of the United States today personally challenged television personality Stephen T. Colbert to a face-to-face debate on the controversial subject of bears. Senator Bear's decision to enter the Presidential race was strongly influenced by Colbert's ongoing personal quest to disparage bears on his Colbert Report show, especially during his frequent "Threat Down" segments. The purpose of the debate is to educate Colbert and all of America that bears are Americans too and is hereby challenging Colbert to a debate on this issue.

Sen. Bear delivered an official challenge to Colbert's Manhattan television studios this afternoon in the form of a letter addressed to Colbert himself. Bear campaign officials were still awaiting a response from Colbert or his representatives at the time of this release.

This historic debate is being sponsored by the Bear Anti-Defamation League and YourNameCampaign.com. www.YourNameCampaign.com strongly believes in the power of Democracy, and enables everyone in the United States to declare their own candidacy for President, Congress, or Senate with more than 60 different products bearing the candidate's name. From hats and T-shirts, to baby gear and bathrobes, to messenger bags and drink coasters – candidates (and anti-candidates) of all ages will find something to wear, use, or display.

The Bear campaign recently unveiled its new official web site, www.TeddyBearForPresident.com, where voters can view Teddy Bear's campaign platform and learn more about Teddy and his family.
